That any involvement of Council with the Centenary of the ending of WW1, which occurs on 11th November, should include that Council:

1. Condemns the imperial ambitions of that war which resulted in millions of wasted lives.
2. Believes that WW1 was not fought for the freedom of small nations, but reflected an imperialist rivalry and a drive to control access to world trade.
3. Believes that the tens of thousands of Irishmen who were killed or maimed in WW1 had their lives thrown away and were lied to when recruited.
4. Believes that the glorification of war and WW1 in particular, is immoral.
5. Believes that our state should have no part in current-day imperialist wars, either via the use of Shannon airport by the US military or via our membership of PESCO and moves towards establishing an EU army.

In respecting the lives lost in WW1, that Council write to An Taoiseach outlining the above.
