FOREWORD

BY MAYOR OF THE COUNTY OF
CORK CLLR. PATRICK GERARD
MURPHY AND
CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF CORK
COUNTY COUNCIL TIM LUCEY

As citizens of Ireland, today is a special day when we commemorate the centenary of the First Dáil, which took place in the Mansion House in Dublin on Tuesday, the 21st of January, 1919.

This was a most momentous occasion, which resolutely conveyed Ireland's firm belief in the ownership of its own destiny by having a government of the people, by the people, for the people. It was a day when Ireland stood up to be counted among the Nations of the World - a day that draws our attention with the utmost pride and belief.

Cork is proud of the role it has played and continues to play in the story of Ireland. Of the 73 Seats in the First Dáil, nine representatives were from Cork; these being: Michael Collins (Cork South); Seán Hayes (Cork West), Thomas Hunter (Cork North East), David Kent (Cork East), Diarmuid Lynch (Cork South East), Terence MacSwiney (Mid-Cork), Pádraig O'Keeffe (Cork North) and Liam De Róiste and J.J. Walsh, both Cork City. From these historic beginnings to the present day, representatives of the County of Cork have continued to serve the people of Ireland with distinction at both the local and national level.

One hundred years ago today, the Cathaoirleach of Cork County Council

ó Méara Chontae Chorcaí, an Comhairleoir Patrick Gerard Murphy, agus an Príomhfheidhmeannach
de Comhairle Contae Chorcaí
an tUasaí Tim Lucey

Is lá speisialta é seo duinn mar Shaoránaigh na hÉireann, nuair a chuijmhnímid comóradh céad bliain an Chéad Dáil, a tharla i dTeach an Ard-Mhéra i mBaile Átha Cliath Dé Máirt, an 21ú Eanáir, 1919.

Ba seo ócáid an-tábhachtach, rud a chuir in iúl go dionghbáilte an chreideamh laidir atá ag Éireann in úinéireacht a chinniúint fén trí rialtas na daoine, ag na daoine, ar son na daoine. Is lá a bhí ann nuair a sheas Éire suas le chomhaireamh i measc Náisiún an Domhain - lá a tharraingíonn ár n-aird leis an bhród agus an creideamh is mó.

Tá Corcaigh bródúil as an ról a bhí aice, agus an ról atá aice fós i scéal na hÉireann. As na 73 suíocháin ins an Chéad Dáil bhí 9 ionadaithe ó Corcaigh, lena n-áirítear; Mícheál Ó Coileáin (Corcaigh Theas); Seán Ó hAodha (lárthair Chorcaí); Tomás Ó Fiachra (Corcaigh Thoir Thuaidh); Dáithí Ceannat (Oirthear Chorcaí); Diarmuid Ó Loingsigh (Corcaigh Thoir Theas); Toirdhealbhach Mac Suibhne (Corcaigh Lárnach); Pádraig Ó Caoimh (Corcaigh Thuaidh), agus Liam De Róiste & JJ Breathnach araon i Cathair Chorcaí. Ón túis stairiúil sin go dtí an lá inniu leanann ionadaithe ó Contae Chorcaí ag obair chuig ardchaighdeán ar son daoine na hÉireann ag leibhéal áitiúla agus leibhéal náisiúnta.

Chéad bliain ó shin bhí Liam R Ceannat ina Cathaoirleach ar Comhairle Contae was none other than William R. Kent, brother of Thomas Kent and Richard Kent, who had both died for Ireland, and brother of David Kent – Cork East's representation in the first Dáil Éireann. Their mother Mary Rice Kent was commemorated in this Council Chamber on the Centenary of her passing in January 2017 and it is hoped that William R. Kent would have looked upon today with pride as the Council that he once chaired himself, gathered in a special meeting, to remember and admire all that was done for Ireland one hundred years ago – endeavouring to ensure this as a lasting legacy.

Here in the County of Cork there is an unsurpassed pride in our history and heritage and in 2018 this was recognised on the national level, with 'Community Commemorations in the County of Cork' winning Best National Community Initiative at the IPB and LAMA Community and Council Awards. Cork County Council, and particularly through its Commemorations Committee, will continue to have a firm regard for the county's and indeed the nation's historic moments and today is a most fitting event in this regard.

Today we look back with pride on the sitting of the First Dáil and discuss how far we have come, as we embark upon the next one hundred years of history lena chéile.

Chorcaí . Bhí se ina deartháir le Tomás agus Risteard Ceannt a fuair bás ar son na tíre, agus deartháir freisin le Dáithí Ceannt – ionadaí do Oirtheor Chorcaí sa chéad Dáil. Bhí Comóradh Chéad Bliain de bás Mary Rice Kent, máthair de na fir seo, i Seomra na Chomhairle i Mí Eanáir 2017. Tá súil againn do mbeadh Liam R. Ceannt bródúil, mar iar-Cathaoirleach, as an Chomhairle seo agus an cruinníú speisialta seo atá curtha ar siúl againn chun aitheantas a thabhairt do gach rud a rinneadar ar son na tíre seo céad bliain ó shin, agus déanfaimid iarracht an oidhreacht sin a leanúint.

Anseo i gContae Chorcaí tá bród neamh-sáraithe againn inár stair agus ar ár n-oidhreacht agus i 2018 aithníodh é seo ar leibhéal náisiúnta, nuair a bhuaigh Contae Chorcaí an Gradam "Tionscnamh Pobail Náisiúnta is Fearr" lenár 'Comóradh Pobail i gContae Chorcaí' ag na Gradaim Pobail agus Comhairle 2018 curtha ar siúl ag IPB & LAMA. Leanfaidh Comhairle Contae Chorcaí, go háirithe trí an gCoiste Comórtha, go mbeidh meas láidir ar chuimhneacháin stairiúla an chontae agus an tír , agus inniu imeacht feiliúnaí maidir leis seo.

Feicimíd siar inniu le bród ar an Chéad Dáil , agus pléimid cé chomh faide as atá muid tar éis teacht, agus muidne ag dul ar aghaidh sa todhcaí chuig an céad éile lena chéile.

THE FIRST DÁIL:

Democracy is described as 'a system of government in which people choose their rulers by voting for them in elections'. This is precisely what occurred in Ireland in December 1918, leading to the sitting of the First Dáil on Tuesday 21st of January, 1919.

Following the enacting of the 'Representation of the People Act 1918' earlier in the year, the 1918 Election on December 14th was the first time that all men over the age of 21, and women over the age of 30, had the right to cast a vote or indeed stand for British Parliament. On Election day, December 14th 1918, the Women and Men of Ireland spoke.

Of the 707 Seats available in the British Parliament, 105 seats were to be filled from across the island of Ireland. There was a Unionist majority in the North and the Irish Parliamentary Party had seen much support in previous decades; however, it was those with Republican beliefs that won the majority of seats in the 1918 Election. Ireland's Republican Party, Sinn Féin, won 73 Seats, with the Irish Unionist Party and Irish Parliamentary Party securing only a combined 32 seats (26 and 6 seats respectively). In keeping with the Election Manifesto and having run their campaign on a platform of self-determination, Sinn Féin decided on 19 December 1918 to establish Dáil Éireann, refusing to take up their seats in Westminster.

AN CHÉAD DÁIL:

Déantar cur síos ar an daonlathas mar 'cúras rialtais ina roghnaíonn daoine a gcuid rialtóirí trí vótáil dóibh i dtoghcháin'. Is é seo go díreach an méid a tharla in Éirinn i mí na Nollag 1918, agus mar thoradh ar seo, do shuigh an Chéad Dáil an ar Máirt 2Ú Eanáir, 1919.

Tar éis an tAcht um 'Ionadaíocht an Phobail 1918' a achtú níos luaithe sa bliaín, ba é Toghchán ar an 14ú Nollag 1918 an chéad uair a raibh an ceart ag gach fear os cionn 21 bliain d'aois agus mná os cionn 30 bliain d'aois, a vóta a chaitheamh, nó go deimhin seasamh do Pharlaimint na Breataine. Ar lá an Toghcháin, 14ú Nollag 1918, labhair Mná agus Fir na hÉireann.

As na 707 Suíochán a bhí ar fáil i bPharlaimint na Breataine, bhí 105 suíochán le líonadh ó oileán na hÉireann. Bhí tromlach ag na nAontachaithe sa Tuaisceart agus bhí an-chuid tacáiochta le Páirtí Parlaiminte na hÉireann sna blianta beaga roimhe sin; áfach, i 1918, bhuaigh na iarrthóirí le idéal Poblachtach formhór na suíochán sa Toghchán. Bhuaigh Páirtí Poblachtach na hÉireann, Sinn Féin, 73 Suíochán, Níor bhuaigh an Páirtí Aontachtach na hÉireann agus Páirtí Parlaiminte na hÉireann ach 32 suíochán idir eatarthu (26 agus 6 suíochán faoi seach). De Réir an Forógra Toghcháin a bhí acu, agus tar éis a bhfeachtas a reáchtáil ar ardán féin chinntithe, rinne Sinn Féin cinneadh ar an 19ú Nollag 1918 Dáil Éireann a bhunú, ag diúltú a gcuid suíochán a thógáil i Westminster.

The First Dáil had a number of notable representatives from Cork - nine men in total. These were Michael Collins (Cork South); Seán Hayes (Cork West), Thomas Hunter (Cork North East), David Kent (Cork East), Diarmuid Lynch (Cork South East), Terence MacSwiney (Mid-Cork), Pádraig O'Keeffe (Cork North), and Liam De Róiste and J.J. Walsh, both Cork City. All ran unopposed in the Election with the exception of Liam De Róiste and J.J. Walsh; both nonetheless receiving an overwhelming number of votes. Although Dáil Éireann had nine Cork representatives, only J.J. Walsh and Seán Hayes were present at the First Dáil meeting of January 21st, 1919. Surprisingly or unsurprisingly, perhaps, only 27 T.D.s were in attendance - accounts showing that 35 were in jail including Cork's Pádraig O'Keeffe; Terence MacSwiney and Thomas Hunter, and a further 4 T.D.'s had been deported including Cork's Diarmuid Lynch.

The historic meeting of the First Dáil on Tuesday 21st of January 1919 commenced at 15:30 and was held in Irish. After nominating Cathal Brugha as Ceann Comhairle and then having passed a short 'Provisional Constitution', a Declaration of Independence was read aloud, in Irish, then French and then English. Three Deputies (Eamon De Valera; George Noble Plunkett and Arthur Griffith) were chosen to represent Ireland at upcoming international peace

Bhí roinnt ionadaithe suntasacha ag an gCéad Dáil ó Chorcaigh - naoi ndaoine san iomlán. Ba iad seo Micheál Ó Coileáin (Corcaigh Theas); Seán Ó hAodha (Corcaigh Thiar), Tomás Ó Fiachra (Corcaigh Thoir Thuaidh), Dáithí Ceannt (Corcaigh Thoir), Diarmuid Ó Loingsigh (Corcaigh Thoir Theas), Toirdhealbhach Mac Suibhne (Corcaigh-Lárnoch), Pádraig O'Caoimh (Corcaigh Thuaidh), agus Liam De Róiste & JJ Ó Breathnach, ó gCathair Chorcaí araoon. Bhí gach iarrthóir tofa gan iomaíocht seachas Liam De Róiste agus J.J. Breathnach; áfach, fuaireadar líon mór vótai. Cé go raibh naoi n-ionadaí de chuid Chorcaí ag Dáil Éireann, ní raibh ach J.J. Breathnach agus Seán Ó hAodha i láthair ag an gcéad chruinníú den Dáil ar an 21ú Eanáir, 1919. Mar abhar iontais ní raibh ach 27 T.D i láthair ar an lá - Léiríonn cuntas go raibh 35 TD as an 105 sa phríosún, Pádraig O'Caoimh, Toirdhealbhach Mac Suibhne agus Tomás Ó Fiachra ó Chorcaí san áireamh; agus 4 TD eile a dhírbirt, lena n-áirítear Diarmuid Ó Loingsigh, ó Chorcaí.

Thosnaigh an cruinníú stairiúil den Chéad Dáil ar an Máirt 21ú Eanáir 1919 ag 15:30 agus tionóladh í trí nGaeilge. Tar éis Cathal Brugha a ainmniú mar Cheann Comhairle agus tar éis 'Bunreacht Shealaíoch' gairid a faofa, léíodh Dearbhú Neamhspleáchais os ard, i nGaeilge, i bhFraincis agus ansin i mbÉarla. Roghnáodh Triúr Teachtaí (Eamon De Valera; S. N. Pluincéad agus Art Ó Gríobhtha) chun ionadaíocht a dhéanamh ar son Éirinn ag cainteanna síochána idirnáisiúnta a bhi ag teacht talks and a 'Message to the Free Nations of the World' was then read aloud, again in the order of Irish, French and English. The Dáil's Democratic Programme - primarily a series of economic and social principles - was then iterated and the meeting concluded thereafter with a resolution to reconvene the following day at the same time.

It had been a relatively short meeting but a monumental one. Ireland had for some time sought its Independence and the past had borne witness to many a conflict; however, Ireland had also been very much aware of its own identity and the prospects of self-governance now filled the country with hope. Those in the First Dáil were there, not through war or conflict, but through peaceful democratic means, elected by the people of Ireland. The First Dáil, however, was not approved of by British Authorities and was shortly after outlawed, together with notable Irish National Organisations such as Cumann na mBan, the Irish Volunteers and the Sinn Féin Republican Party. It seemed inevitable that further conflict would ensue, as noted by Michael Collins later in 1919 when he said, "All ordinary peaceful methods are ended and we shall be taking the only alternative actions in a short while now".

On Monday, January 21st 2019, we remember the meeting of the First Dáil, but we too remember the centenary of the shootings at Soloheadbeg in County susas tá le teacht agus cuireadh "Scéal ó Dháil Éireann chun Saor-Náisiún an Domhain" a léamh os ard, in ord Gaeilge, Fraincis agus Béarla. Cuireadh túis le Clár Daonlathach na Dála - sraith prionsabail eacnamaiochta agus sóisialta go príomha - agus ansin chróchnaigh an cruinniú ina dhiaidh sin le rún chun an chéad lá eile a ath-thionól ag an am céanna.

Is cruinniú réasúnta gearr a bhí ann ach ceann suntasach. Bhí Éire ag lorg neamhspleáchas ar feadh tamaill agus san t-am roimhe sin bhí go leor coimhlinte; áfach, bhí an-eolas ag Éirinn ar a chéannacht féin agus d'éirigh le hiarmhairtí féin-rialachais an tír a lónadh le dóchas. Ní raibh na daoine sin sa Chéad Dáil ann trí chogadh nó coimhlint, ach trí mheán daonlathach síochánta, arna dtoghadh ag pobal na hÉireann. Níor cheadaigh Údarás na Breataine an Chéad Dáil, áfach, agus tar éis tamaill bhí se eisreachtaithe, mar aon le heagraíochtaí náisiúnta suntasacha Éireannacha eile, cosúil le Cumann na mBan, Óglaigh na hÉireann agus Páirtí Poblachtach Sinn Féin. Bhí sé dosheatanta go mbeadh coimhlint bhereise ann, mar a léirigh Micheál Ó Coileáin ina dhiaidh sin i 1919 nuair a dúirt sé, "Tá gach gnáth-mhodh síochánta críochnaitheanois agus beidh muid ag glacadh na ghníomhartha malartacha go gairid".

Ar an Luan, 21ú Eanáir 2019, is cuimhin linn cruinniú an Chéad Dáil, ach cuimhnímid freisin na lámhaigh ag Sulchóid Bheag i gContae Tiobraid Árann

Tipperary, which, and the ambush at Béal A'Gleanna in West Cork 6 months earlier, were to signal only the beginning of what will be the commemorative focus over the coming years – the Anglo-Irish War of Independence and subsequent Irish Civil War.

Ireland today is observing its 32nd Dáil and Local Authorities over the years have had many Councils; Councils that supported Dáil Éireann on the ground within only one to two years following the establishment of Dáil Éireann. Indeed, following the Elections of 1920 'some 91% of the Municipal and County Councils recognized the Irish Government and declared they no longer gave allegiance to the English Government'. Cork County Council adopted such a resolution on the 19th of June, 1920 with Dómhnall Ó Ceallacháin as Cathaorlach, preceded by William R. Kent (1918-1920).

Much has happened in Irish politics over the years but reflecting on the first Dáil, Mary MacSwiney, sister of Terence MacSwiney, noted 'they immediately compiled statistics as to the conditions of the fisheries and of agriculture, and the condition of the ports, and the improvements that could be made... [concluding] they have done all the ordinary work of Government, and have done it very well and very effectively'. Ireland can look back upon, and be proud of, Ireland's First Dáil, as it was a tharla céad bliain ó shin, i dteannta leis an luiochán ag Béal An Gleanna in larthar Chorcaí 6 mí roimhe sin, is iad seo na comhartha luath de tú a bheidh mar fhócas cuimhneacháin sna blianta atá le teacht - Cogadh na Saoirse Anglo-Éireannach agus Cogadh Cathartha na hÉireann ina dhiaidh sin.

Tá Éire inniu ag breathnú ar a 32ú Dáil agus ag Údarás Áitiúla thar na blianta go raibh go leor Comhairl aige; Comhairl a thug tacafoccht do Dháil Éireann ar an talamh laistigh de bhliain amháin nó dhá bhliain tar éis bhunú Dháil Éireann. Go deimhin, tar éis na dToghcháin de 1920, d'aithin 91% de na Comhairl Contae agus Bardasacha Dáil Éireann agus dhearbhaigh siad nach raibh siad dílseacht do Rialtas na Breataine a thuilleadh. Ghlac Comhairle Contae Chorcaí rún den sórt sin ar an 19ú Meitheamh, 1920 le Dómhnall Ó Ceallacháin mar Cathaorlach, agus roimh sin Liam R. Ceannt (1918-1920).

Tá alán tar éis tarlú síos tríod na blianta i bpolaitíocht na hÉireann, ach, agus sí ag smaoineamh ar an gcéad Dáil, dúirt Maire Nic Suibhne, deirfúr Toirdhealbhach Mac Suibhne, gur chuir siad staidreamh le chéile maidir le coinníollacha na n-iascach agus na talmhaíochta, agus na gcalafort, agus moltaí faoi feabhsuithe a d'fhéadfai a dhéanamh ... [agus í ag críochnú] rinne siad gnáth-obair an Rialtais go léir, agus rinne siad é go han-mhaith agus go héifeachtach'. Is féidir le hÉirinn breathnú siar ar Chéad Dáil na one hundred years ago. As noted in 'The Catholic Bulletin' of January 1919: 'Ireland has turned her back on the Land of Bondage and her face to the Land of Promise. She has waived aside those who would remind her of the crumbs and the flesh-pots. She has arisen to claim her destiny'. We are now her custodians – may we journey well.

hÉireann, agus a bheith bródúil as, mar a bhí sé céad bliain ó shin. Mar a luadh i 'The Catholic Bulletin' i Eanáir 1919: 'Tá Éire tar éis a drom a iompar ar Thalamh na braighdeanas agus a aghaidh a iompar chuig an Talamh Geallta. Tharscaileadh sí iad siúd a chuirfeadh na grabhróga agus na potaí feola i gcuimhne di. Tháinig sí chun a cinniúint a éileamh ! Táimid anois ina chaomhnóirí - go bhféadfaimis taisteach go maith.

"Ní h-iad na daoine gur bhféidir leo an méid is mó dochar a dhéanamh a chloífeadh, ach na daoine atá ag fulaingt is mó ."

Message to the Free Nations of the World

To the Nations of the World:
Greeting.

The Nation of Ireland having proclaimed her national independence, calls through her elected representatives in Parliament assembled in the Irish Capital on January 21st, 1919, upon every free nation to support the Irish Republic by recognising Ireland's national status and her right to its vindication at the Peace Congress.

Nationally, the race, the language, the customs and traditions of Ireland are radically distinct from the English, Ireland is one of the most ancient nations in Europe, and she has preserved her national integrity, vigorous and intact, through seven centuries of foreign oppression : she has never relinquished her national rights, and throughout the long era of English usurpation she has in every generation defiantly proclaimed her inalienable right of nationhood down to her last glorious resort to arms in 1916.

Internationally, Ireland is the gateway of the Atlantic. Ireland is the last outpost of Europe towards the West: Ireland is the point upon which great trade routes between East and West converge: her independence is demanded by the Freedom of the Seas : her great harbours must be open to all nations, instead of

Scéal ó Dháil Éireann chum Saor-Naisiún An Domhain

Do Náisiúnaibh an Domhain:
Beatha agus Sláinte.

Tá Náisiún na hÉireann tar éis a saoirse do fhorpháirt, tá a teachtaí toghtha tar éis teacht I ndáil chómhairle I bpríomhchathair na tire an t-aonmhadh lá fichead de mhí Eanair, 1919. Tríotha súd, chum Saorstát Éireann do chothughadh, iarrann sí ar gach náisiún dílis náisiúntacht Éireann féin do admháil agus a bheith de bhuaidh aici an náisiúntacht soin do dheimhniughadh I láthair Comhdhála na Síothchána.

I gcúrsaíbh náisiúntachta, tá deighilt ó bhonn idir Éire agus Sacsa I dtaoibh cineadh is teangan, béas is nós is seanchus. Náisiún de na náisiúnaibh is ársa 'san Éoraip uile is eadh Éire, agus na tréithe is dual di táid slán iomshlán aici fós I n-aindeoin an fhóiréigin Ghallda atá ag brughadh uirthe le seacht gcéad bliadhain. Níor scooil sí riamh uaithe na buadha is dúthchas di, agus níor leig sí riamh do ré dul thairste gan an náisiúntacht is dual di féin an leithligh do dhearbhadh go dána ó Ghabháltas Gall I leith go dtí an tráth is déadhnaighe dár ghlaic sí claidheamh go cródha I mbliadhain a 1916.

I gcúrsaíbh eadarnáisiúntachta, is í Éire geata na Fairrge Móire; is í Éire daingean deiridh na hEórpa á'n larthar; ionad is eadh í mar a dhruideann raona tráchtála le chéile ó Oirtheag agus larthar: is éigean di bheith neamhspleádhach I being the monopoly of England. To-day these harbours are empty and idle solely because English policy is determined to retain Ireland as a barren bulwark for English aggrandisement, and the unique geographical position of this island, far from being a benefit and safeguard to Europe and America, is subjected to the purposes of England's policy of world domination.

Ireland to-day reasserts her historic nationhood the more confidently before the new world emerging from the War, because she believes in freedom and justice as the fundamental principles of international law, because she believes in a frank co-operation between the peoples for equal rights against the vested privileges of ancient tyrannies, because the permanent peace of Europe can never be secured by perpetuating military dominion for the profit of empire but only by establishing the control of government in every land upon the basis of the free will of a free people, and the existing state of war, between Ireland and England, can never be ended until Ireland is definitely evacuated by the armed forces of England.

gcómhair Saoirse na Fairrge; is éigean a cuanta bheith ar oscailt I gcómhair gach uile náisiún I n-ionad a mbeith fé smacht Shacsan féin amháin. Táid na cuanta úd follamh díomhaoin le fada de bhrígh gurab é meón Shacsan agus lucht treórtha a loingis Éire do choimeád mar sciath chosanta I gcómhair móruighthe Shacsan agus a hImpreachta. Dá réir sin, I n-ionad buntáiste agus cosaint do theacht don Éóraip agus do Aimeirce de bharr dealuighthe an oiléáin seo is amhla bhaintear feidhm aisti chum an domhan mór do choimeád fé chomhacht Shacsan ar leithligh.

Tá Éire ag aithdhearbhadh don domhan nuadh so atá ag á scaoileadh féin ón gcogadh go mbaineann náisiúntacht ársa léi, agus is móide a dóchas go ngéillfear dá scéal de bhrígh go gcreideann sí gur Saoirse agus ceart atá mar bhun ar Dlige na Náisiún, gur cóir do phobalaibh cuidiughadh le chéile, ós árd, ar son an Chirt is I gcoinnibh gach buadha dá dtéigheann go dlúth leis an tíoránacht; gur deimhin nach de bharr buansmacht arm ar mhaithe le impreacht a bhuanóchar an tsíothcháin 'san Éóraip acht de bharr smacht riaghaltais a cheapfar I ngach tir le saorthoil saerchine; agus gur deimhin fós ná cuirfear deireadh choidhche leis an síorchogadh so idir Éire agus Sacsa chum go nglanfaidh lucht airm Shacsan as talamh na hÉireann go bráth na breithe.

For these among other reasons, Ireland - resolutely and irrevocably determined at the dawn of the promised era of self-determination and liberty that she will suffer foreign dominion no longer - calls upon every free nation to uphold her national claim to complete independence as an Irish Republic against the arrogant pretensions of England founded in fraud and sustained only by an overwhelming military occupation, and demands to be confronted publicly with England at the Congress of the Nations, in order that the civilised world having judged between English wrong and Irish right may guarantee to Ireland its permanent support for the maintenance of her national independence.

Dá mbrígh so uile, agus de bhrígh, mór-mhór, gur "Sinn Féin Sinn Féin" soiscéal an tsaoghal indiu is go bhfuil réim na Saoirse láimh linn do réir gach geallamhna, tá ceaptha go daintean dionghbálta ag irinn gan géilleadh choidhche do smacht eachtrannach. Ar an adhbhar soin iarrann sí ar gach náisiún dílis cuidiughadh léi san éileamh atá curtha aici roimpe, 'sé sin Saoirse I n-iomshlán agus Saorstát Gaedhlach. Níl ceart ná cóir ag Riaghaltas Shacsan I nÉirinn, ní raibh de bhun riamh le smacht Sacsan I nÉirinn ach calaois, ní féidir a bhuanughadh ná a choimeád ar siubhal féin, gan arm uathbhásach. Dá dheascaibh sin is mian le hÉirinn seasamh I láthair Sacsan ag Comhdháil na Náisiún I dtreo go bhfeicfidh an saoghal an scéal atá eadartha, go ndéanfaidh an domhan mór breitheamhns ar an éagcóir atá ar siubhal ag Sacsain agus an ceart atá ag dul do Éirinn is go ngeallfar do mhuinntir na hÉireann pé congnamh a theastóchaídhe uatha chum a saoirse do bhuanughadh do dheoin Dé.

Democratic Programme of the First Dáil

We declare in the words of the Irish Republican Proclamation the right of the people of Ireland to the ownership of Ireland, and to the unfettered control of Irish destinies to be indefeasible, and in the language of our first President, Pádraig Mac Phiarais, we declare that the Nation's sovereignty extends not only to all men and women of the Nation, but to all its material possessions, the Nation's soil and all its resources, all the wealth and all the wealth-producing processes within the Nation, and with him we reaffirm that all right to private property must be subordinated to the public right and welfare.

We declare that we desire our country to be ruled in accordance with the principles of Liberty, Equality, and Justice for all, which alone can secure permanence of Government in the willing adhesion of the people.

We affirm the duty of every man and woman to give allegiance and service to the Commonwealth, and declare it is the duty of the Nation to assure that every citizen shall have opportunity to spend his or her strength and faculties in the service of the people. In return for willing service, we, in the name of the Republic, declare the right of every citizen to an adequate share of the produce of the Nation's labour.

TO THE ELECTORS OF MID CORK.

A CHAIRMAN,

As the Sinn Féin Candidate for the Constituency of Mid Cork, Mr. Terence MacSwiney, B.A., is at present, with many sturdy and uncompromising Comrades of National Liberty, languishing in an English Jail, and thereby precluded from issuing the usual Election Address, we therefore, on his behalf, beg to submit to you a notice a resume of the Principles for which he stands, and which we pledge you—he will uphold.

Terence MacSwiney is a man whose Patriotism has stood the Acid Test, who has conceived no risk too great and no sacrifice too high in the effort to serve the Cause of Ireland's Freedom, and keep her flag unsullied.

He believes, like Patrick Pearse, that the root of Ireland's trouble lies in English Domination; that hunger would not haunt her fertile Valleys if Ireland were free; that under a Free Ireland the resources of the Country would be opened up, rivers harnessed for new industries, agriculture improved, fisheries protected, that the claims of the Working Classes would receive due recognition, and that the life of the Nation would thrum with purity and commercial activity.

He feels as we do that under Foreign domination our Country is being exploited or misused by our Rulers, our mining and industrial resources undeveloped, our foreign trade retarded and discouraged, and the Country's commercial progress checked in manifold ways.

He realizes that under Foreign Control the Country is bled white through Iniquitous Taxation; that our population has diminished by half and that the NEGLECTED CONDITION OF OUR COUNTRY'S RE-SOURCES makes Emigration the only outlook of our sturdy youth.

He holds that Ireland is a struggling "Small Nation"; that her struggle has lasted for 7 centuries, and that in accordance with the lofty Principles of President Wilson Ireland is entitled to SELF-DETERMINATION regardless of the material interest or advantages of any other Nation or people which may desire a different settlement for the sake of its own External Influence or Mastery.

He believes in demanding the Full Measure of Ireland's Rights, and he declines to lower the National Standard on mere grounds of expediency. He believes that if the DUTCH, THE DANES, THE SWEDES AND SWISS are able to manage their own affairs independently of Foreign Control, that the IRISH are equally capable.

Traolach MacSwibne stands for the SOVEREIGN INDEPENDENCE of IRELAND. That is the only claim that can be recognized by the Peace Conference. If you fail to support Terence MacSwiney, you condemn your own people before the gaze of the whole world as the one race unfit to govern themselves.

ISSUED BY THE MID CORK SINN FEIN EXECUTIVE ELECTION COMMITTEE ON BEHALF OF Traolach MacSwibne, B.E.

Declaration of Independence

Whereas the Irish people is by right a free people.

And Whereas for seven hundred years the Irish people has never ceased to repudiate and has repeatedly protested in arms against foreign usurpation.

And Whereas English rule in this country is, and always has been, based upon force and fraud and maintained by military occupation against the declared will of the people.

And Whereas the Irish Republic was proclaimed in Dublin on Easter Monday, 1916, by the Irish Republican Army acting on behalf of the Irish people.

And Whereas the Irish people is resolved to secure and maintain its complete independence in order to promote the common weal, to re-establish justice, to provide for future defence, to insure peace at home and goodwill with all nations and to constitute a national polity based upon the people's will with equal right and equal opportunity for every citizen.

And Whereas at the threshold of a new era in history the Irish electorate has in the General Election of December, 1918, seized the first occasion to declare by an overwhelming majority its firm allegiance to the Irish Republic.

Now, therefore, we, the elected Representatives of the ancient Irish people in National Parliament assembled, do, in the name of the Irish nation, ratify the establishment of the Irish Republic and pledge ourselves and our people to make this declaration effective by every means at our command.

We ordain that the elected Representatives of the Irish people alone have power to make laws binding on the people of Ireland, and that the Irish Parliament is the only Parliament to which that people will give its allegiance.

We solemnly declare foreign government in Ireland to be an invasion of our national right which we will never tolerate, and we demand the evacuation of our country by the English Garrison.

We claim for our national independence the recognition and support of every free nation in the world, and we proclaim that independence to be a condition precedent to international peace hereafter.

Agus de bhrigh go ndeárna muinntir na hÉireann, agus sinn i mbéal ré nuadha de stair an domhain, feidhm a bhaint as an Olltoghadh, Mí na Modlag, 1918, chun a dhearbhughadh de bhreis adhbhalmhóir gur toil leó bheith díleas do Shaorstát Éireann.

In the name of the Irish people we humbly commit our destiny to Almighty God who gave our fathers the courage and determination to persevere through long centuries of a ruthless tyranny, and strong in the justice of the cause which they have handed down to us, we ask His divine blessing on this the last stage of the struggle we have pledged ourselves to carry through to Freedom.
